

Path to Undergraduate Research Experiences: Psychology

Research Continuum

	Introduction to research skills and experiences	Beginning research experiences	Advanced research experiences
Curricular opportunities at Winthrop	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• PSYC 301 (Statistics)</li> <li>• Participation in research as human subjects</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• PSYC 302 (Research Methods)</li> <li>• PSYC 471/472 (independent research credits)</li> <li>• Participation on research teams without credit</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• PSYC 471/472 (independent research credits)</li> <li>• Advanced participation on research teams without credit</li> </ul>
Co-curricular opportunities at Winthrop	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Attend SOURCE</li> <li>• Attend research events for other disciplines that are held on campus</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Present research at SOURCE</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• McNair Scholars Summer Research</li> <li>• Honors Program (thesis)</li> <li>• Submit a Research Council Grant with a faculty member</li> </ul>
Off campus opportunities		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Attend a professional research conference</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Present at a professional research conference</li> <li>• Publish research in a professional outlet</li> </ul>

As undergraduate research is labor and time intensive, participation in certain programs may be limited. Students interested in participating in formal research experiences are encouraged to take ownership of their own development as scholars, and to take advantage of all of the resources available to them.

If you are interested in getting involved in undergraduate research in Psychology: contact Dr. Sleight at sleighm@winthrop.edu, (803) 323-2633, Kinard 124.

See <http://www.winthrop.edu/undergradresearch/> for more information about Undergraduate Research at Winthrop University.